“ My heart aches so much knowing that I'll never be able to hear you laugh, see you smile and feel your presence again. it hurts so much knowing that you felt as if this was your only way to escape what you were going through.

Words really can't even express how I feel right now i just wish I could wake up from this bad dream but I know that won't happen.. I miss you so so much Quee Im just wishing I could wake up from this nightmare and talk to you and see you smile and laugh but I know this is real life and I can't "wake up"... 😞 it hurts but I know I can't change anything just wishing and can't stop thinking there was more I could do.

we been rocking since ms Campbell class in 8th grade and I can say you honestly did make an impact on my life for the better though we didn't have any classes together we ah still run into eachother it would always be smiles and giggles I'd say hey quee and you'd say hey kariy we'd both have pretty bright smiles on our face everytime we'd see eachother there wasn't one time that I noticed any signs and I hate myself for that and I wish I could just go back and see you and tell you everything's going to be alright and encourage you to keep fighting and know that you are strong enough to keep going and know that gods on your side always but I can't and I'm hurt in ways people really don't even understand yes people could be like I barely saw us together but they don't know the kind of relationship we had only you and I know and that's fine. I love you so so much and it hurts that I wasn't able to say goodbye. My sincere condolences to your family and friends. I Promise I will never let your name be forgotten . Forever screaming LONG LIVE DA BIGGEST SLIME. #FORERVER16💜🕊️

“ i'm so lost for words right now best friend. it feels like i love you too much to be forced to let go of you. you were the friend that i NEEDED.. the one true, HONEST friend that i had. 😞 you kept it real with me when you needed to, you was there for me when nobody else was, and most of all you loved me when i thought nobody else did. you made me feel like i had a reason to live and go hard but now it seems like it's no point. i wanted to go hard for US and now i won't ever be able to fulfill making you happy my love :( and that eats me up so much. i'm heartbroken without you. i was never expecting this... i wish we could've talked this out.. but i guess this time you were truly over everything. i miss the nights we'd lay together and gossip a little about people.. you'd say the funniest things ever. i miss the nights when we'd just laugh all night about things we didn't even know what was funny for. i miss you calling me randomly just to sit on the phone in quietness. i miss us always wanting to and trying to eat chipotle or bojangles all day everyday. i miss every moment we had. i don't know how i'll possibly ever get over you and this whole situation. i probably won't ever.. which is fine.. that just mean you'll forever be in my heart best friend. if i could trade spots with you i would.. and if i could've took all your pain from you i would've carried all of it without any complaints just for you. you had such a beautiful soul and i THANK YOU so much for being that light in my life. i can't wait for our souls to meet again. i love you so so so much. forever my bestie no one could ever take your spot. #forever16💜

“ My beautiful and sweetie Que! I can not express truly how deeply you are missed. From the moment I found out, my heart was crushed. I wish we could have had more time together. You were amazingly smart, and I will always be proud to have been your math teacher! I pray you are at peace, and we will meet again one day! Love you always, sweet girl! - Mrs. T

“ There are no words to express what I'm feeling. My beautiful baby cousin was a quiet soul yet having a kind spirit about her. Gone too soon but will never be forgotten. My heart breaks. Auntie Kate and the rest of our family my deepest condolences. Quiesha will always be in our hearts, mind and spirit. I love you all.

“ Although we didn’t spend a lot of time together, my cousin Quiesha had a way of leaving a lasting impression. There was something about her—gentle, warm, and quietly radiant—that left a mark on everyone she met. It wasn’t loud or showy, but there was a beauty in her that lingered long after she left the room. Her passing has created a stillness that I didn’t expect, a reminder of how deeply someone can touch the lives of others, even in ways we don’t always recognize. I’ll hold on to the memory of Quiesha’s warmth and grace, and though she’s no longer here, her spirit will continue to live on in the hearts of those who loved her—leaving an imprint, quietly but powerfully, that will never fade.

Sending my sincerest and deepest condolences to my family. I love you.
